INSTRUCTIONS MAILED.

THE AUTHORITIES WILL LOOK INTO THE MATTER.

A Rousing Rally Held by the Eleventh Ward Democrats Last Night—Supplemental Instructions to Registrars—A Republican Meeting—The Tuscumans Will Ratify Political Notes.

Replying to a statement in The Herald regarding the Sugar Trust fund being used in Utah to elect Frank J. Cannon, the local columns of the Tribune yesterday asserted that the Republican committee "didn't even have money enough to buy postage stamps."

In view of the following this is probably a fact.

It would seem that Charles Crane, of Kansas, realized this fact and resorted to expedient which, if punished according to law, will cost him several hundred cold, hard plunks.

August 25, the Utah commission issued supplemental instructions to registrars. In order that the matter might be thoroughly understood by members of both parties it was decided to furnish copies enclosed in penalty envelopes to the chairman of the territorial committee that they might address and mail them to the several persons, the commission having no knowledge as to their addresses.

Chairman Crane sent out those given him as did also Mr. Crane. But the latter wasn't satisfied with mailing only the supplemental instructions. He saw the commission and went it one better.

A letter addressed to "F. E. Stewart, Oasis, Utah," which bore the postmark "Salt Lake City, September 15, 1894," and which in its upper right hand corner carried the words "Department of the Interior, office of the Utah commission, Salt Lake City, Utah," official business, penalty for private use, $300," came to the commission rooms on Wednesday bearing on its front side several hands with the words "Returned to writer." On the back was the date of receipt at Oasis "September 16, 1894, received" and the word "Advertised." The date of return to the Salt Lake office was "October 22, 1894, received."

The clerk noting the title aforesaid supposed it was a commission envelope returned to the office and opened it. Inside was the "several instructions" from the commission and also some "special instructions" from Mr. Crane and Mr. Sowers, said specialties appearing in the shape of a circular in manner and form as follows:

Republican territorial committee room 22, Wasatch building.

Officers—Charles Crane, chairman; R. H. Whipple, vice-chairman; Percy S. Sowers, secretary; J. R. Walker, treasurer.

Salt Lake City, Utah, 1894.

Dear Sir—By the enclosed circular issued by the Utah commission dated August 25, 1894, and handed to me for distribution you will observe that the LAST POSSIBLE CHANCE for those who were not registered PRIOR to the 23rd of September, 1894, is now open.

Between the 24th day of September and the 1st day of October, prox.

September 14, the commission decided that at ANY TIME DURING THE WEEK from September 24 to October 1, the registrars or deputies should enter on the list the name of any voter who had been omitted, when such voter should appear and comply with the provisions of the law relating to registration.

That in all precincts outside of the cities of Salt Lake, Ogden, Logan, Park City and Provo, the registrars or deputies should be in their usual places of conducting registration work during the entire day of Saturday, September 29, for the purpose above set forth and for the revision of lists and records.

That in Salt Lake City, Ogden, Logan, Park City and Provo, the registrars or deputies should be in their usual places of conducting registration work during the entire day of Saturday, September 29, for the purpose above set forth and for the revision of lists and records.

Many voters missed registering for "the constitutional delegation" (which is required by the enabling act, and is as you are aware, a new and special registration.) Others will have come of age, or have taken their final naturalization papers before October 1 prox.

Please see to it promptly that in each precinct a list is made of those voters who were not registered, and have the precinct registrars see that they are all added to the list of the old and the new registrars between September 21 and October 1 prox.

The deputy registrars should keep the registry books open in the respective precincts during the time named. If they will not do so, then they should be found wherever they are.

In any event, energetic and systematic work will be required to get all the people registered who have been from whatever cause omitted heretofore.

CHARLES CRANE, Chairman, Republican Territorial Committee.

P. S. SOWERS, Secretary.

From this it will be seen that Charles Crane and Percy S. Sowers, in providing the authorities act.

But this is not all. It is alleged on the best of authority that the general Charles is also liable in another way. The law provides that part of the Congressional Record may go through the mails free when properly franked. It appears that certain Republican congressmen have kindly loaned their frank, but that instead of "part of Congressional Record" the buff envelopes have contained "Another Plain Talk" by Joseph P. Smith.

The matter will be taken up by District Attorney Judd, and in the opinion of leading attorneys Mr. Crane will in a short time, find Jordan a hard road to travel.

SUPPLEMENTAL INSTRUCTION

Issued By the Utah Commission to All Registrars.

The Utah commission yesterday mailed to all registrars supplemental instruction No. 3, which says:

The commission desires to call your attention to the following clause in the instructions recently issued for the guidance of judges of election in this territory, to wit:

EDMUNDS-TUCKER LAW AND AMNESTY.

"No person who shall have been convicted of any crime under the acts mentioned (unless such person has been pardoned or amnestied therefor, or who shall, since November 1, 1890, have been a polygamist, or who, since said date, shall have cohabited polygamously with persons of the other sex, shall be permitted to vote, etc. (Edmunds-Tucker law, 1887, and amnesty proclamations, January 4, 1893, and September 27, 1894.)"

The date inserted in the body of the above clause, to wit: November 1, 1890, is hereby changed to read January 4, 1893. The president's proclamation of amnesty covers all offenses up to the last named date, and the first date is therefore error.

By order of Utah Commission.

A. G. Norrell and E. W. Tadlock, for the commission.

ELEVENTH WARD DEMOCRATS.

They Held a Lively Meeting, at Which Mrs. Richards Spoke.

The Democratic meeting in the Eleventh ward last night was an unqualified success. The meeting house was crowded to the utmost capacity, a great many of the audience being ladies.

At 8:10 D. S. Whitehead, chairman of the Democratic club called the meeting to order. The Democratic party in its platform and declaration of principles, said Mr. Whitehead, contains a plank declaring in favor of women's suffrage. He then introduced Mrs. F. Richards, who delivered an able address upon that topic.

Mrs. Richards' remarks were greeted with vigorous applause.

In the unavoidable absence of Fisher Harris who was billed for a speech, Alex McMaster was substituted. Mr. McMaster was proud to see so many Democrats present, inasmuch as it was a mark of encouragement.

Referring to the question of women's suffrage the speaker declared that the only reason that women do not vote now in Utah was because the Republican party had deprived them of their rights, yet in their platform they offer the fair sex a bit of taffy by declaring in favor of equal rights for women.

The speaker supposed this declaration to mean that a woman should have just as many rights as another.

The speaker referred in glowing terms to the congressional career of Hon. Joseph L. Rawlins and gave his malignant and caustic calling of him.

Alluding to Republican claims of friendship to the people of Utah the speaker asserted and showed that in days gone by Democrats and Republicans were the only friends of this people.

As to protection no better illustration could be furnished than by comparing free trade England with protection in the matter of wages paid to workmen.

In this country tariff serves but one purpose. It adds to the price of articles consumed by the people and builds up monopolies at the expense of the republic.

In the matter of the policy of the Republicans in advocating a "strong central government" the speaker powers to mean that the speaker was in opposition to public safety. The best government is that in which the people rule, for whenever the people themselves delegate powers to a central government it is then that the people surrender their rights.

The speaker concluded by a prediction that Salt Lake city and county would be the last to be taken by the Democrats, and that Joseph L. Rawlins would be re-elected by a handsome majority.

Chairman Whitehead closed the meeting with a brief speech urging all to support the candidate for constitutional convention on the Democratic ticket.

The Jefferson Drum corps furnished the music.

THE TOM LEWIS CLUB.

It is Organized Under Most Favorable Conditions.

A large and enthusiastic lot of laboring men met in Federated Trades hall last night and organized the Thomas P. Lewis club. It was entirely non-partisan, being composed of both Democrats and Republicans. Over 150 signed the roll.

Slater was elected president, and John C. Kelly secretary. The club meets again Saturday night.

DOES NOT BELIEVE HIS NAME.

Jacob S. is a Boreman Beyond Controversy.

Hon. Jacob S. Boreman has been "doing" the southern country in the interest of Republicanism. The old gent is in the sere and yellow, very prolix and has not yet realized that the war is at an end. Hence, when at Scipio on Monday night and at Holden Tuesday, that portion of the audience which didn't go to sleep in the hall, the old man was surprised. Republicans down there are saying "Well, is this all we get?"

The local political situation sized up by close observation presents no new phases except that Harvey Hardy's chances grow beautifully less as the days roll by. Not chances for election by any means, for even the most sanguine Republicans are prone to admit that if they pull one man through it will be glory enough, but chances for being heard in the race at all.

The Tribune still continues to whack away at Hardy, only instead of being in the imperative mood and prepping him to get off the ticket, it is pleading with him to retire for the sake of the party.

The Republican candidate, however, is stubborn and declares that he will stay till the last egg is fried and longer if need be.

This is about all there is ament the local layout.

As to territorial politics, the prospects for Rawlins grow brighter as the days go by, while Frankie's sun is on the decline and even now is disappearing beneath the snow-crowned hills of the mountain range of defeat. The address of Hon. B. H. Roberts on Wednesday night converted dozens of week-end Republicans. From all over the territory some requests for Roberts. He is doing a world of good for Rawlins.

Reports from north, south, east and west indicate that the victory this fall will be even greater than before and that the Little Napoleon will do a whole lot of wishing for votes the sun goes down November 6.

A Republican Rally.

Glen Miller took charge of the Republican meeting in Chowning hall last night. D. C. Elchorn, who aspires to represent the First precinct in the constitutional convention, was the first speaker, who began by claiming the earth and wound up with a short sermon on truth and honesty.

Jacob Moritz, another candidate for constitutional convention, who delivered a prolonged calamity howl.

Charles A. P. Stanton then called upon the people to "harken unto the voice of truth" and vote the Republican ticket.

Johnny Zane followed with one of his characteristic harangues and Harvey Hardy closed the exercises with a few remarks.

At South Jordan.

A rousing Democratic rally was held at South Jordan last night. F. S. Richards, H. V. Meloy and Dr. Faust were the speakers.

A Rally Tonight.

The rally at the Sixth ward house this evening will be a hummer.

Political Notes.

H. V. Meloy is doing some great work for Democracy.

Delegate Rawlins is expected home on Sunday next.

Frank J. Cannon will orate at Murray on Thursday next.

Hon. R. C. Chambers leaves for his home in Park City this morning.

C. S. Wilkes is forging ahead of Harry Joseph for the surveyorship.

Scott Crismon is ransacking around trying to discover the source of the popularity of Gideon A. Gibbs.

Bob Sloan and H. J. Dinny are the busiest men in town, with the possible exception of John T. Calne.

George Shell and H. D. Gaud, candidate for delegate to Congress, spoke to the Republicans of Park City last night.

Colonel Allan Miller and A. S. Geddes will talk to the few Republicans of Sugar House tomorrow night.

The Tribune gave Hardy another kick yesterday. Up to date Dykes has, with his other two compatriots, escaped.

The ballot boxes which will be used in the coming election were yesterday shipped to the office of Registrar Cohen.

The Jefferson Drum corps have kindly consented to make things lively at the Taggart's hall meeting in the Fourth precinct tonight.

Charley Offenbach, Republican candidate for coroner, is dodging from point to point these days in an effort to ascertain where he is at.

James Jensen, Herman Bamberger and B. B. Quinn will make a county court which will not spend the county money in a reckless manner.

The members of the Democratic Military band have joined the Laboring Men's Association, so that the term scab does not apply to any of them.

The word "advertisement" appears over the Republican ticket in the quasi-organ of the great defeated. The quasi must be Republican for revenue only.

Miss McMaster, stenographer at Democratic headquarters, is engaged in transcribing Hon. B. H. Roberts' speech at the Continental market Wednesday evening.

Cyrus L. Hawley, Democratic candidate for county treasurer, is making a vigorous fight and while his opponent is one of the strongest men on the other ticket, Mr. Hawley expects to win hands down.

It is announced that the Wiley Brown-Raybould combination have shaken hands with Ike Woolf, now that both have no hopes to anticipate until next fall.

John M. Cannon, the Democratic candidate for county attorney, is regarded as one of the brightest young men of the Utah bar. Charlie Whittemore will be spared the trouble of selecting a deputy.

D. J. Chadwick, president of the "Inner Circle," returned from a trip up north yesterday. He says the Republicans are making inroads upon Democracy up there.

Chadwick is evidently in a quandary when he says: Bishop Whitney, Hon. H. P. Henderson and Hon. F. S. Richards will speak to their constituents at Taggart's hall, on First street, tonight at 7:30, and at the Eighteenth street hall Monday night. Rousing crowds are looked for at both places.

C. L. Hawley, manager of the clearing house of this city and Democratic candidate for county treasurer, will preside at the Taggart's hall meeting tonight. Mr. M. S. Woolley being unable to attend until late in the evening.

Judge Powers has received urgent requests to go up to Idaho and speak, but he is needed at home, and his engagements here will not permit him to leave. The Judge speaks at Park City tomorrow night.

Frank Y. Taylor, who was recently nominated by the Democrats of the county as a candidate for the constitutional convention, yesterday tendered his resignation as such, on the ground that he is the nominee for assessor and does not desire to run for both offices. The committee will meet tomorrow to fill the vacancy.

There will be a big audience at the theatre next Thursday evening when Judge Powers and Judge Goodwin will discuss the question of the day, and it is to the interests of the masses that the Democratic party should succeed.

Judge Powers, of course, taking the affirmative. The proceeds will go to the associated charities and the Workmen's library.

A good story is told about Messrs. Watson and Stanford, the two Republican orators from Ogden who have been "doing" the southern counties. At one town they had a full house and supposing they were in a hot-bed of Republicanism, the train began a tirade of abuse against Democracy and Democrats, so violent in character that every man, woman and child left the house. To the infinite regret of the pair not a person in town would give them a bed and they were compelled to lodge in a barn. It was a twelve-mile drive to breakfast next morning, too. Stanford was in town yesterday, but had but little to say.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

Three Prominent Englishmen Spend a Day Here.

J. D. Rich, James J. Cardin and Lew Hill, three prominent Englishmen, were in Salt Lake yesterday on their way home after an extended trip on this continent. Mr. Rich has been postmaster of the city of Liverpool for many years. He entered the postoffice as a clerk when a young man and slowly worked his way up through all the intermediate stages until, on the death of his predecessor, he was appointed to the position he now holds. A change of ministry in England does not mean a change in the government officials, who are there appointed not so much for their political opinions, as for their fitness for the office, and when once appointed they are there for life, providing they prove capable and honest, or receive promotion.

Mr. Hill and Mr. Cardin are business men of prominence. They had letters of introduction to W. C. Spence, and through the courtesy of Manager Clayton, of the Saltair Beach company, were taken out to Saltair in the afternoon. In the morning they visited the tabernacle, and called at the office of the first president of the church and took in the sights of the city generally. They were very enthusiastic over the beauties and commercial advantages of our city, and greatly pleased with the hospitality shown them. They made the Knutsford hotel their headquarters, and went east at 12 o'clock last night.
